"Having attended Stanford over 25 years ago, I became intimately involved with TiE early on serving as a Charter Member and participating in its programs. TiE has continued to be a beacon of hope and has enabled and created countless entrepreneurs for the past 31 years. I am a living example. It gives me great pleasure to return to the TiEcon stage and address a global audience of innovators. I hope many will be inspired by my story and spring into action to achieve their own dreams." - Khurram Sheikh

"We are excited to have one of own serving as a role model to many attending TiEcon 2023." - Anita Manwani, President, TiE Silicon Valley

"I am proud to welcome and host my friend Khurram Sheikh as he shares his success stories of good education, pioneering work and entrepreneurship under all circumstances." - Vish Mishra, Council of Trustees and Former President, TiE Silicon Valley

Khurram Sheikh, Chairman and CEO, CXApp, concluded, "CXApp is a 'category-maker' company that has developed the most engaging application for the hybrid workplace market – in reality, this is the Workplace SuperApp with over 150 native features and 100+ API integrations. We are excited about the intersection of customer experience (CX) and connected intelligence (AI) that our platform enables and I look forward to sharing the unique opportunities for innovation in this industry defining sector at TiEcon 2023."
